European Proceedings of Social and Behavioural Sciences (EpSBS) is an open access, peer-reviewed and refereed series. The main objective of the EpSBS is to promote interdisciplinary studies in social and behavioural sciences by providing a platform for international scholars to disseminate their work.

Topics include but are not limited to anthropology, archaeology, psychology, sociology, philosophy, interdisciplinary humanities, economics, political science and additional entries in related fields, including education, legal studies, environmental studies and media studies. The series also welcomes works highlighting the connection between human activities and social interactions.

The EpSBS publishes theoretical, experimental or application-based works with the objective of contributing to a greater understanding and development of social and behavioural sciences. EpSBS publishes either monographs for example, master thesis/doctoral dissertations or edited volumes based on the outcomes of conferences.

Once published, all proceedings are submitted for evaluation and possible coverage in Web of Science Core Collection™ Conference Proceedings Citation Index - Social Sciences & Humanities (CPCI-SSH).

Preface

This volume contains selected, peer-reviewed papers from Conference Land Economy and Rural Studies Essentials which was held on 10 – 11 May 2020 in Omsk State Agrarian University, Omsk, Russia.

The objective of the conference is to discuss actual social, economic and political problems of rural territories and communities development. Human capital is considered as the main resource for modern innovative agriculture, and the main reports are devoted to discussing the conditions of its development.

Importance of the conference is in the fact that it is aimed at a systematic discussion of the most important issue for the development of agriculture is the development of human capital in the conditions of urbanization.

LEASECON 2020 appeared to be both stimulating and informative with a wonderful array of keynote and guests from all parts of Russia and also from Mongolia, and Kazakhstan. Delegates had a wide range of meetings to attend, some of those were with the opportunity of virtual participation via Zoom. There were 4 thematic sessions, each had its own keynote speaker who delivered their speeches at the end of the first day. The main sessions of the event were:

- Cross-cultural communications and global integration in the academic environment
- Science as a social enterprise
- The educational mission of the academic community
- Scientometrics, public services, and management is science
- The social and cultural value of the scientific legacy
- Scientific worldview, philosophical worldview, and scientific consciousness
- Scientific personnel training and certification
- Interdisciplinary cohesion in social science, engineering, humanities, and natural sciences

In addition to thematic sessions, two plenary sessions were held. Both plenary sessions consisted of two plenary sections 30 minutes each and a word from organizers. All regular reports, including keynotes, were limited to 10 minutes followed by 10 minutes of questions and answers. The program consists not only of plenary and thematic sessions but also workshops and panels. Three best paper awards were introduced for the following reports:

- “New Approaches to Human Capital Formation in Rural Areas Under Present-Day Conditions” Evgeniya V. Sokolova
- “Socio-Economic Situation and Political Orientations of the Rural Population” Nina D. Skosyreva
- “The Digitalization of Agriculture: Infrastructure and Human Resources” Oksana V. Shumakova

Peer review process was managed without the use of any specialized software. Web service Antiplagiat.ru was applied to detect the plagiarism at the initial check. All papers that were previously published, non-original or not relevant to the scope were declined. All other manuscripts were submitted to single-blind peer review by two referees. Every referee was engaged at most at 25 reviews. Overall, 141 of 188 received submissions gone through the review process. After the review 109 papers were accepted. Acceptance rate is 77%.

The conference committee would like to express their sincere appreciation to all the organizing institutions and involved parties. Special thanks are due to keynote speakers who made a valuable contribution to the discussion. We also want to honor several dozen reviewers, translators, editors, copyeditors and publishers who contributed a lot of time and effort to make this volume complete and published.
